

Show What You Know® Publishing is Going Green!

We care about the environment:
Help us conserve good books

Dear Ohio Customer,

Effective November 2009, the name for the Ohio Achievement Test (OAT) changed to the Ohio Achievement Assessment (OAA). Only the name of the test has changed. The standards tested remain the same. Since our OAT books cover the same standards tested on the OAA, we will continue our quest to remain eco-friendly and deplete our stock of OAT books before we reprint new covers.

Show What You Know® test-preparation materials are guaranteed to be up-to-date with the current Ohio standards and test format.

Thank you for helping us to conserve good books and go green!
